Speaker

Tania Babina

Columbia

Professor Tania Babina joined the Columbia Business School in 2016. She received a Ph.D. from the Kenan-Flagler Business School at the University of North Carolina. Her research is at the juncture of corporate finance, labor economics, and entrepreneurship.

More broadly, she studies inter-relationship between human capital and firm investment, financing, and organizational choices. Her current research explores drivers of entrepreneurship and factors predicting entrepreneurial success. Long-term, she seeks to understand how human capital affects the nature of a firm and firm boundaries. She teaches the Entrepreneurial Finance course.

Discussant

Xaver Kelbel

PAUL Tech

Xaver Kelbel has extensive experience leading finance teams and implementing cutting-edge AI solutions to drive growth.

For example at CommerzVentures, Xaver collaborated with cutting edge fintech companies from the ventrue portfolio, that leveraged AI to drive growth, positioning them for success in the evolving financial markets. At FlatexDegiro AG, he implemented AI-powered business intelligence systems that transformed strategic decision-making for a Neo Broker.
